

San.

The rules for material use

1. All materials on this site may be reproduced in any media, on Internet servers or on any other media without any restrictions on the amount and timing of the publication. This permission applies equally to newspapers, magazines, radio stations, TV channels, Internet sites and pages.
2. The only prerequisite for reprinting and rebroadcasting is a reference to the original source (for electronic publications — an active hyper link). No prior agreement to reprint from the Administration site is required.